Re Item V

Reasoned statement under Article 35(2) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement

- 1). Reference is made to the following documents:

D1: DE-A-199 09 698

Document D1, which is considered to represent the most relevant state of the art for claims 1 and 10, discloses a method and a device for lifting or lowering of objects in connection with a wind turbine or a similar construction claimed in claims 1 and 10 of the present international application.

Such method and device for lifting or lowering of objects in connection with a wind turbine are neither disclosed nor suggested by the prior art.
Therefore, the subject matter of claims 1 and 10 is new and inventive.

- 2). The subject-matter of claim 1 differs from the method described in (D1) in that: "it comprises the step of lifting or lowering of objects in connection with a wind turbine using a one element which is lighter than air".
- 3). The subject-matter of claim 10 differs from the device described in (D1) in that: "it comprises one element of lifting or lowering of objects in connection with a wind turbine using one element which is lighter than air".

The subject-matter of claims 1 and 10 is therefore novel (Article 33(2) PCT).

The solution of the invention is achieved by using the combination of features claimed in independent claims 1 and 10.

- 4). Dependent method claims 2-9 refer to particular embodiments of claims 1 and as consequences are also new and inventive.
- 5). Dependent method claims 11-20 refer to particular embodiments of claims 10 and as consequences are also new and inventive.

- 6). Industrial application seems to be possible without any particular difficulties
- 7). Contrary to the requirements of Rule 5.1(a)(ii) PCT, the relevant background art disclosed in the documents DE-A-199 09 698 (D1) is not mentioned in the description, nor is this document identified therein.
- 8). Independent claim 21 and dependent claims 22-24, trying to use method steps contemporarily with device features is generally not accepted and contrary to the requirements of Rule 6.3(b)(I) and Rule 6.4 © PCT).
